Pressure Mat

The most popular approach to alerting to night time wanderers is the pressure mat.

When placed in a door or hallway the mat detects foot pressure. The mat can also be used for fall prevention by giving an early warning when placed next to the bed.

The mat may be linked to a pager receiver or supplied to plug in in place of existing call system press button.

When plugged into the call system the room number will be indicated as normal.

The mats can also be supplied as part of a numerical or single pager system.

Where more than one room is to be monitored with the pager system we suggest the numerical pager system. This then indicates which mat has been activated.

The mat is 560 x 750mm and has a three meter lead which is bonded to the inside of the mat for strength.

If necessary mats can be supplied with any length of lead on request. Multiple mats can be connected together to create a larger area in special cases.

Pressure mats are to be placed under a nonslip washable Wacmat (see below) to cover the pressure mats to minimize trip hazards and also protects the pressure mats if a patient is incontinent.

Available with 1 or 2 ring jack plug.
